Introduction

1. The Canadian Payments Association (CPA) was created by Parliament in 1980. The statutory objects of the CPA are to establish and operate national systems for the clearing and settlement of payments and other arrangements for the making or exchange of payments; facilitate the interaction of its clearing and settlement systems and related arrangements with other systems or arrangements involved in the exchange, clearing or settlements of payments; and facilitate the developments of new payment methods and technologies.

Rule-making Authority

2. The Canadian Payments Act gives the CPA Board of Directors the authority, subject to CPA by-laws, to “make such rules as it considers necessary for the attainment of its objects, including rules respecting payment items acceptable for exchange, clearing or settlement; establishing standards and procedures in respect of the exchange and clearing of payment items; respecting settlements and related matters; respecting the authenticity and integrity of payment items and messages; and respecting the identification and authentication of members and other persons.”

Scope

3. The Rules in this Manual shall be read in conjunction with the Canadian Payments Act and By-law No. 3 – Payment Items and ACSS, and shall govern the Exchange of Payment Items for the purpose of Clearing and Settlement. Nothing in the Rules shall affect or be interpreted to affect the rights or liabilities of any party to any Payment Item, except as expressly provided in the Rules. All requirements are subject to applicable law.

Copyright

4. The Rules are the property of the CPA and are protected by copyright.

Access

5. The Rules may be obtained in the manner described in the Procedure for Access to Canadian Payments Association Rules within the Introduction to the Rules Manual. Copies of the Canadian Payments Act and by-laws may be obtained by contacting:

PROCEDURE FOR ACCESS TO CANADIAN PAYMENTS ASSOCIATION RULES

General Guidelines

1. All access to the Canadian Payments Association (CPA) Rules including access for Members, shall be on the basis that:
 - a) the Rules are the property of, and are copyrighted by, the CPA;
 - b) (subject to subsection (c), reproduction of the Rules except by Members for the use of their own officers and employees, may be carried out only with the express written permission of the CPA President to ensure that the most current or appropriate Rule is released;
 - c) reproduction of the Rules may be carried out for a customer of a Member where a contractual agreement between the Member and its customer requires the customer to comply with applicable CPA Rules subject to the condition that the Member is not entitled to publish or sell the CPA Rules;
 - d) the Rules shall be easily and generally accessible in both official languages, and shall be distributed or otherwise made available in a timely fashion;
 - e) no one shall be unduly restricted from obtaining access to the Rules’
 - f) access will be available without guaranty, warranty or representation as to the accuracy or completeness of a Rule or portion thereof, unless certified by the CPA in accordance with the certification procedure provided in section 4; and
 - g) access will be available without guarantee, warranty or representation as to the relevance or suitability of a particular Rule or portion thereof to a particular situation.

Access

2. The Rules are available to the following parties:
 - CPA Members
 - Non-CPA members, including non-members financial institutions, customers of CPA Members and the general public

Types of Access

3. In order to facilitate access, the CPA has established the following procedures for distribution of the Rules Manual and specific sections:

- a) For CPA Members:

The CPA shall provide one print-ready copy of the Rules Manual, in either English or French, to each new CPA Member. A copy of the Rules Manual in the other official language will also be provided if requested. Additional Rules Manuals may be purchased from the CPA.

The CPA shall automatically make available to each Member every update to the Rules, either by distributing one print-ready copy of the updates to the Member, in the language requested, or by notifying the Member by electronic mail and including a link for access to the updates on the CPA's website, at the Member's option. A member that has a copy of the Rules Manual in both official languages and that has opted to receive paper updates, will receive one copy of every update in each language

- b) For non-members: (Including: non-member financial institutions, customers of CPA Members, and the general public)

Non-members may gain access to the CPA Rules in either official language by:

- i. borrowing the complete Rules Manual, either from the public library system of any province or territory, through inter-library loan from the public library or the CPA library, or directly from the CPA;
- ii. contacting the CPA to obtain individual sections of the Rules, either currently in force or in force as of a specific date;
- iii. purchasing the Rules Manual from the CPA; or
- iv. visiting the CPA's website at www.payments.ca.

Certification of Rules and Rules Enquiries

4. For the purpose of litigation or otherwise, and upon written request, the CPA will certify a particular Rule as being complete and in force as of a particular date.
5. Enquiries with respect to Rules access should be directed to:

RULES AND RULES AMENDMENTS

Effective Date

1. Subject to the Minister of Finance’s disallowance power under Section 19.2 of the Canadian Payments Act, unless the Board should otherwise specify, any given Rule or Rule amendment shall come into force sixty (60) days following approval of the Board.

Grace Period

2. The future introduction of new or amended Rules that would have the effect of modifying, revising or clarifying the eligibility of Items currently being accepted for Exchange, for the purpose of Clearing and Settlement, are subject to a sunset clause requiring elimination of any resulting non-eligible Items within a period to be determined by the Board. If no specific time frame is identified by the Board, the period of grace shall be one year from the date of approval by the Board of the relevant Rule or Rule amendment.

During the period of grace, no CPA Member shall enter into any new arrangement, or expand any existing arrangement, that results in the Exchange of any Item that does not comply with the new or amended Rule.

Reference Material

3. The President may update and otherwise amend tables and other reference material contained in the Rules, and such amendments shall come into force as specified by the President.

Revisions and Correction of Errors

4. The President may alter the numbering, arrangement and format of any Rule; may make such alterations in language and punctuation as are requisite to obtain a uniform mode of expression; and may make such amendments as are necessary to correct clerical, grammatical or typographical errors; and such amendments shall come into force as specified by the President.

Interpretation of Rules

5. The President may, at the request of a Member or on his own initiative, give interpretations concerning the meaning or applicability of Rules.

Such interpretations shall be recorded, tabled with the Senior Operational Committee and the Board, and shall be authoritative unless and until altered by the President himself or by the Board.

Severability

6. Each Rule is severable from the other Rules. If any Rule or any provision in a Rule is found to be invalid or unenforceable, the validity or enforceability of the remaining Rules or provisions shall not be affected, and the Rules shall be deemed to be amended so as to eliminate the offending Rule or provision and make the Rules enforceable to the maximum extent possible.

PROCEDURES FOR DISCUSSION DRAFT RULES

Recommendation to the Board

1. When a draft Rule comes forward to the Board for consideration it shall be accompanied by a recommendation as to whether or not it should be circulated as a discussion draft and, if so, to whom and with what deadlines.
2. In formulating a recommendation as to whether or not a draft Rule should be circulated as a discussion draft, particular consideration should be given to:
 - i. the nature and significance of the draft Rule;
 - ii. the effect the draft Rule would have; and
 - iii. the utility of additional informed input.
3. Potential recipients of discussion drafts shall include parties drawn from the various sectors of the Canadian economy, and in particular: recognized representatives of consumers, retailers, non-deposit-taking financial institutions, the communications industry, equipment manufacturers and governments.
4. In formulating a recommendation as to appropriate recipients for a particular discussion draft, consideration should be given to the matters referred to in 2 above, and:
 - i. the relevance of the subject matter of the draft Rule; and
 - ii. the nature, interests and expertise of the potential recipient.

Board Decision

5. If the Board determines that the draft Rule should be circulated as a discussion draft, then it would normally:
 - i. state any preliminary amendment(s) it requires;
 - ii. approve the draft Rule in principle; and
 - iii. stipulate:
 - a) proposed recipients, and
 - b) deadlines for comments.

Circulation

6. The President shall:
 - i. prepare the discussion draft in appropriate form, together with a transmittal document:
 - a) explaining the CPA context and the purpose of this draft Rule, and
 - b) setting out the discussion draft procedure (both generally and in this specific case) and deadlines,
 - ii. advise:
 - a) the stipulated recipients, and
 - b) if and as appropriate, the public generally; and
 - iii. circulate the discussion draft, transmittal document and relevant background material to those persons or groups who request it.

Process

7. In normal circumstances, all comments on discussion drafts shall be made in writing and delivered to the President, who shall acknowledge receipt and provide them to the relevant CPA staff member.
8. The following procedures shall be adhered to with respect to comments received on discussion drafts:
 - a) CPA staff shall assemble all comments received on discussion drafts, and shall provide them to the person or committee charged with drafting the Rule.
 - b) The person or committee charged with drafting the Rule shall consider each comment received and determine its appropriate disposition, and shall provide reasons for accepting or rejecting each comment.
 - c) CPA staff shall prepare a report, summarizing the comments received on the discussion draft, and stating the disposition of each comment and the reasons therefor, and shall provide a copy of the report to all discussion draft recipients prior to final Board approval of the discussion draft as a CPA Rule.
 - d) CPA staff shall prepare the draft Rule in final form, and send it, together with a report (summarizing comments received and noting changes made) to the Board.
9. A copy of each Rule made by the Board following this discussion draft procedure together with the associated report shall be sent by the President to all persons or groups who submitted comments.
10. The President shall develop the particular forms and process to implement this procedure and in so doing shall ensure clarity of communication and efficient operation generally.

RIGHTS AND OBLIGATIONS/EXCHANGE AND SETTLEMENT

Rights and Obligations – Members

1. The rights and duties of members as contained in Section 29 of the Canadian Payments Act are that “members may present payment items and shall accept and arrange for settlement of payment items in accordance with the by-laws and rules.”
